HIS LEGACY LIVES ON

Trevor Boopsingh

1944 - 2010

Trevor Boopsingh was a man whose passion for the development of the energy sector of Trinidad & Tobago has made all the difference to our Nation. From his early days as an engineer, through a career which spanned key leadership positions, Mr. Boopsingh's vision influenced the blueprint of growth for this industry.

Over three decades Mr. Boopsingh served as Senior Lecturer at UWI and Permanent Secretary in the Ministry of Energy, among many other posts. His works include several prominent publications on the future of the industry, including the highly acclaimed book Oil and Gas Development – A View from South. He has been honoured as a Distinguished Member of the International Society of Petroleum Engineers, and with the Chaconia Medal (Gold) in 2002.

We celebrate the life of Trevor Boopsingh whose vision and legacy will continue to energise the development of this Nation's oil and gas sector for many years to come. Our hearts go out to his family at this sad time.
