WHEN YOUTH IS

empowered!

Mr. NGC Sanfest, the multi-talented Kevan Calliste, has reigned supreme for the third consecutive year in one of the most hotly-contested schools' Carnival competitions: the National Junior Extempo Monarch. We congratulate him warmly on his strong hold on the Extempo crown!

The NGC Sanfest is both crucible and catalyst for thousands of primary and secondary students. The festival draws out the best aspects of their cultural and artistic expression in the visual, literary and performance arts.

As Kevan's latest victory shows, when you educate young people and believe in them, you empower them to dream imaginatively, and to confidently pursue those dreams.

NGC is very proud to have been a major investor and enthusiastic partner of Sanfest for the last 15 years. Among all its other positive attributes, NGC Sanfest is the epitome of what affirmative community-building is all about.

And that, for us, is priceless.
