

THE NATIONAL GAS COMPANY OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO LIMITED

WHEN A PIVOTAL ROLE
energises
PROGRESS

The axis around which our nation's energy sector revolves... is us. NGC owns and operates the extensive pipeline network that moves natural gas from offshore platforms to our large and light industrial consumers throughout the country. Impelled to maximise the value of this resource on behalf of all citizens, NGC is committed to the dual role of aggregator and merchant of Trinidad and Tobago's natural gas.

As an aggregator, NGC negotiates gas supply contracts, which generate a steady source of income for upstream companies and secure a supply of gas for downstream distribution. Beyond our shores we have seized several beneficial opportunities and formed strategic partnerships which seek to grow the country's gas supplies and revenues. We remain committed to pursuing new avenues of growth for our business as we are deeply invested in co-operation that can strengthen the region's economies.

NGC makes every effort to ensure a stable supply to its downstream customers. Moreover, for over 40 years, NGC's support for employment-rich industries that market high-demand commodities has attracted many investors, and catalysed the growth of the local petrochemical sector.

Through our dual role, NGC is ensuring a resilient energy future for Trinidad and Tobago.
