

Nurturing young talent Inspiring Community

NGC supports the PEP Central T20
Night Cricket Competition 2015

There is nothing that fosters a spirit of interaction and unity between communities in Trinidad and Tobago quite as powerfully as sport.

At The National Gas Company of Trinidad and Tobago Limited (NGC), we see contributions to sport and community enrichment as valuable investments in the service of national development. It is for this reason that we have supported the People Empowering People (PEP) Central T20 Night Cricket Competition for the past four years.

Launched on May 18th at the Exchange Recreation Ground in Couva, with a match between Korea Village and Caldrac Sports Club, this year's contest will run until June 13th and see twenty teams vie for the coveted title of the central region's best. Beyond exciting competition, the event promises to provide fertile grounds for the exposure and development of young cricketing talent in participating villages.

NGC is proud to be part of this inspiring event, as we continue to invest in building stronger communities throughout Trinidad and Tobago and harnessing the potential of our people.

The Captains of Korea Village and Caldrac Sports Club toss to begin the first PEP T20 match.

Members of the Korea Village team shake hands with Head of Community Relations at NGC, Wynda Chandler and Community Relations Officer, Alister Narinesingh.
